Kaye Bowles-Durnell

One of the most gracious and elegant ladies of the tanbark, our first ASHA Member Of The Day for 2015 has been an avid owner, exhibitor and breeder of American Saddlebreds for decades. Some of you will remember her showing with Charlie Smith back in the '70s. Her love of the American Saddlebred goes far beyond the show ring. She has been a constant supporter of the breed's associations and their works. Our honoree's generosity has allowed the American Saddlebred Horse Association and the UPHA to take on several worthwhile projects.

In the show ring she has been a great competitor, both riding and driving. In recent history she has been teamed with such stars as The Soprano, Cadfael, My Paramour, Definitely Dianna, The Power Broker PHF, Buena Vista and Mystic Starlight. While our honoree has enjoyed success showing herself she may be most famous for being the owner of one of the most exciting five-gaited stallions of this past decade, the late I'm Lookin For You. The son of Roseridge Heir lit up the ring right here in 2008 as the Reserve World's Champion Three-Year-Old Five-Gaited Stallion/Gelding with George Schmid. Over the next three years he had many thrilling performances with Ed Cockriel in the irons as well as being a popular choice of mare owners. Although he met an untimely death, I'm Lookin For You left us with outstanding youngsters with others still waiting to make their debuts.
